

The currently approved therapy for PAH only provides symptomatic relief with no complete cure. My current research focus in the lab involves, exploring the novel drug delivery systems of FDA approved drugs by targeting novel pathways such as apoptosis with a goal towards the complete cure.